Railroads were used to transfer goods. Many towns were built around the railroads for that reason. Railroads also were a way of transportation for the people, they used them to get to places. Railroads came in 1880's because people heard that there were huge coal mines and many opportunities.